

“Man’s World” Lyrics

Music and Lyrics by Margaret Dorn (BMI)

Who ever said that life would ever be fair?

Who ever said you can get what you want?

Just because it’s there

You just study up and work real hard

And go out and get your union card

Who ever said that life would ever be fair?

My daddy said

Oh girl

If you wanna make it in this man’s world

Oh girl

You gotta be twice as smart and

Girl

You better look good

You better look good

Just when you think that your dreams are about to come true

Somebody goes and changes the rules on you

Well listen up

Just hang tough

But be ready when they call your bluff

Just when you think

Just when you think

My daddy said

Oh girl

If you wanna make it in this man's world

Oh girl

You gotta be twice as smart and

Girl

You better look good

You better look good

Hey, you gotta pay your dues

They might charge you twice

It ain't fair it ain't nice

Hey, you've got nothing to lose

One step at a time

Then climb, climb, climb

One of these days

We're gonna realize

Oh, we can work together

If we don't patronize

We're all human beings

We got the same brain

So let's equalize the rules of the game

One of these days

One of these days

Oh, my daddy said

Oh girl
If you want to make it in this man's world
Oh girl
You gotta be twice as smart and
Girl
You better look
Oh girl
If you want to make it in this man's world
Oh girl
You gotta be twice as smart and
Girl you better look good
You better look good
If you wanna make it in this man's world
You gotta be
You gotta be
You gotta be twice as smart
You gotta be girl
You gotta be
You gotta be
You gotta be twice as smart
You gotta be
Oh yeah
If you wanna make it
If you wanna make it in this man's world
Sing it girls
Sing it
Sing it, Sing it girls
