

“Morning Rain” Lyrics

Music and Lyrics by Jean Louis Marcel Pedat aka Jay Elle (ASCAP)

Verse 1:

Dare to fall in love again
Even when
The clouds gray out the sky
Let your color shine
And rise on high
Like the rose under the morning rain

Chorus 1:

So, just like the rose
Welcome the rain
The sun will shine again
Open up your heart
And fall in love again
Rain falling to the ground
Makes the sweetest sound
To the rose under the morning rain

Verse 2:

Dare to face your fears again
Love in vain
Take the lies in stride
Always keep your thorns

At your side

Like the rose under the morning rain

Chorus 2:

So, just like the rose

Welcome the rain

The sun will shine again

Open up your heart

And fall in love again

Rain falling to the ground

Makes the sweetest sound

To the rose under the morning rain

Bridge:

And when the weather clears

Your innocence

Might have been washed down to the ground

All the love in your heart

Soon will be found

And if again you are to wake up all alone

Your heart a stone

The sun's behind the clouds

So like the rose

Open wide

And reach out for the sky

Chorus 3:

Let your color shine

Like the rose under the morning rain
